Improvement of Production, Productivity and Household income by smallholder tribal farmers

Soil & Water Conservation measures with regenerative Agriculture

- Farm Bund / Stone bund constructed in 2.40 Ha. of land by 12 smallholder tribal farmers
- Wasteland development is done in 2.92 ha. land by 14 smallholder tribal farmers.
- Promotion of Agroforestry - Fruit and vegetable cultivation by 14 farmers in 5.6 ha.
- Vegetable seeds were provided to 800 families to promote backyard kitchen gardens.
- 100 households were provided vegetable seeds for commercial vegetable cultivation.
- 24 landless/vulnerable / PwD families were supported 4 - 5 goats each to enhance annual household income.
- 20 landless/vulnerable families were supported apiculture units to enhance annual household income.
- Model farms have been promoted by 33 families in 4.95 ha
- 180 farmers supported farm equipment for income generation activities providing the equipment to the needy farmers on a rental basis.

The tribal families are consuming chemical free nutritious vegetables from Kitchen Garden. They are not purchasing vegetables from the market. They are cultivating Long beans, Tomato, Long guard, pumpkin, Bitter guard and bottle guard.

Farmers are getting an income of Rs. 3000 to Rs. 5000 from chemical-free vegetable cultivation using organic compost. with the help of bucket kit drip irrigation, they are cultivating 2 - 3 times crop through out the year. The vegetables are being sold at local markets in nearby villages.

Pari Sabar is a widow, aged about 45 years living with 3 sons. She has 3 acres of low land and 0.50 acres of Padar Land (all are FRA (Forest Rights Act) lands). She is the only person faced difficulties in cultivating the land and no source of money to engage the agriculture labours. The land was idle without any cultivation. She was engaged in firewood collection and selling and chick rearing. With this low income, she was able to manage 3 sons facing many difficulties even she could not afford for 2-time meals to the children and herself.

During the village development committee meeting, the vulnerable households were identified and Mrs Pari Sabar has been selected by the Village Development Committee for Goat rearing. She was informed regarding the project criteria that the project will support INR 17200 and the contribution from the family will INR 10000. They have contributed INR 10000 from their savings and borrowed from other villagers. With the total amount of INR 27200, they have purchased 5 Goats. CCD field staff have organized sensitization trainings on care & and management of Goats, regular vaccination with the support of the Veterinary department in free of cost and management of Goat shed with a hygienic environment. Initially, she sold 2 wethers (male goats) at the cost of INR 12000/- each. She got INR 24000/- and purchased 2 female goats.

After regular orientation and their self-interest towards care & and management of Goats, now Pari has 13 Goats (8 female goats including 4 kids and 5 wethers). Every year she sells 3 - 4 wethers (male goats) and gets an income of INR 30000 to INR 40000. She has taken an interest for Goat rearing and now she is taking care of 21 goats from other households as the share partner including her 13 goats.

She has expressed gratitude to KKS - CCD for the initiation and encouragement. Now she is happy in maintaining her family without any difficulties.
